Art Unit: 1652

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-8, 14, 20, and 25, drawn to DNA, vectors and host cells encoding and expression of MEKK1, classified in class 536, subclass 23.2.
- II. Claims 9-12 and 26, drawn to MEKK1, classified in class 435, subclass 194.
- III. Claims 13-17, drawn to antibodies to MEKK1 and methods of use thereof, classified in class 435, subclass 7.4.
- IV. Claims 18-19, drawn to methods of detecting a nucleic acid encoding MEKK1, classified in class 435, subclass 6.
- V. Claims 21-22, drawn to methods of identifying compounds that bind to MEKK1, classified in class 435, subclass 15.
- VI. Claim 23, drawn to methods of modulating MEKK1, classified in class 435, subclass 194.
- VII. Claim 24, drawn to methods of identifying modulators of MEKK1 activity, classified in class 435, subclass 15.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

The DNA of Group I and the proteins of Groups II and III each comprise a chemically unrelated structure capable of separate manufacture, use and effect. The DNA comprises a nucleic acid sequence and the proteins of Groups I and III each comprise an unrelated amino acid sequence. The DNA has other utility besides encoding the proteins such as a hybridization probe, the proteins can be made by another method such as isolation from natural sources or chemical synthesis and the proteins have other utility besides acting as an antigen to induce the antibodies such as a kinase.

Inventions I and IV are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the DNA of Group I can be used to make the proteins of Group II.

The DNA of Group I is unrelated to the methods of Groups V-VII as it is neither used nor made by the methods of Groups V-VII.

Inventions II and V or VII are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the protein can be used as an antigen to induce the antibodies of Group III.

The DNA of Group I and the antibody of Group III are unrelated to the methods of Groups V and VII as they are neither used nor made by the methods of Groups V and VII.

The DNA of Group I, the protein of Group II and the antibody of Group III are unrelated to the method of Group VI as they are neither used nor made by the method of Groups VI.

The methods of Groups IV-VII are independent as they comprise different steps, utilize different products and produce different results.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Art Unit: 1652
